STATEMENT ON PROPOSED CASH MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

THE PRESENT SITUATION

CHECKING ACCOUNTS: The University currently maintains five (5) checking accounts, three in the Chase Bank and two in Citibank. The accounts at Chase are the operating account, the payroll account and the Plant Funds account. The accounts at Citibank are for the Endowment Funds and the Restricted Account including funds restricted by federal, local and private sources, as well as loan funds and agency funds.

CERTIFICATE OF DEPOSITS: Certificates of Deposit are purchased for idle cash in each fund for periods ranging from Fifteen (15) days to Ninety (90) days based on cash requirements projections;

Certificates of deposits are purchased from the bank offering the best rate at the time.

OPERATING CASH ACCOUNT: The operating account at Chase is the University's principal checking account. Most of the deposits and disbursements for the University are transacted through this account. This fund is reimbursed by other fund groups based on applicable disbursements. Funds over and above a compensating balance are invested in CD's.

PAYROLL ACCOUNT: Funds are transferred from the Operating account to the Payroll account to meet payroll requirements. These funds are not now available for investment after they have been transferred.

PLANT FUNDS: When cash projections indicate a temporary surplus of cash in the Plant funds, that surplus is invested in Certificates of Deposit.
RESTRICTED FUNDS
ACCOUNT: Cash for restricted funds are kept in a checking account at Citibank. Most of these funds are from advances by the Federal Government for specific projects. Federal funds, which constitute the major portion of funds in the restricted checking account at Citibank, cannot be invested for the benefit of the University.
