

UVI students are invited to participate in a research project that focuses on examining “Caring about Academic Care” at UVI.

Caring about academic care is the concern put forth by the university to provide the necessary attention, commitment and responsiveness for students to achieve success within their academic learning experience.

Please note: The Caring about Academic Care research project will assist in improving the academic experience at UVI. Participation in this study is voluntary, and will take only a few minutes to complete. Students must be over 18 to participate in this study.
