CSAP Goal:
To impact lives and organizations worldwide through the study of spirituality and professionalism.

CSAP Mission:
To promote the study of spirituality and professionalism while disseminating information and resources that inspire ethical and responsible behavior.
The Center for the Study of Spirituality and Professionalism (CSAP) at the University of the Virgin Islands is an initiative of the Office of the President. CSAP has been established to promote the institution’s management values and increasing awareness of the pivotal role of spirituality and professionalism in leadership successes and societal wellbeing. CSAP cooperatively works on “Making the Connection” at UVI and beyond. CSAP is a place for Reflection, Prayer and Meditation (RPM) as you grow to your highest potential. CSAP provides information and support for those who desire to review information, search for knowledge and explore wisdom.

CSAP: Background & Sacred Sanctuary Spaces

The University of the Virgin Islands (UVI) established the Center for the Study of Spirituality and Professionalism (CSAP) as part of UVI’s commitment to engendering an atmosphere in which people from various walks of life can practice tolerance and engage in the sharing of worldviews on spirituality and professionalism.

CSAP promotes the integration of spirituality and professionalism:

- For a greater understanding and adoption of principles of compassion, caring, multiple intelligence, service, responsible judgment, honesty and intelligences;
- To maintain social justice, accountability, integrity, ethics and respect for life and property; and
- To create and sustain a harmonious environment for individuals, the University and other organizations to be proactively sensitized to the importance of spirituality and professionalism in a wider context.

UVI desires all personnel and VI community members to:

- Strengthen and affirm awareness of the value inherent in the integration of spirituality and learning;
- Embrace and understand the important role of ethics and integrity as it relates to personal development, professional practice, good governance and principled leadership; and
- Accept CSAP’s invitation to explore and learn more about the opportunities offered to enhance your life experience and positive linkages of spirituality and professionalism for your sacred wellbeing and more!
