Class Activities

The course program includes a number of activities that encourage participant interaction and networking on a more informal level. Often, participants connect in cooperative ways for financing, implementing and operation of their systems. These activities are the third leg of the UVI program that also includes lectures and hands-on application of the technology.

Sunday Dinner

On the first night of the course a dinner of tilapia and aquaponic vegetables is served by the UVI, St. Croix food service. It is the first opportunity for many to taste tilapia and an opportunity to begin socializing with the other participants.

Island Sightseeing

The busy schedule of formal training is paused for a drive to Point Udal, the eastern most point in the USA, and the return to campus via Cane Bay beach on the North shore of St. Croix.
Class Photo

Cameras are clicking all week long as each student records the course activities. The class photo creates a memory for all the participants to carry home with them.

Carambola Dinner

A banquet dinner at the Friday night Pirate’s Buffet and Culture Show is our way to thank you for your participation in the course.
Buck Island Boat Trip

Buck Island Reef National Monument [http://www.nps.gov/buis/] is the destination on the final day of the course. Sailing on Big Beard’s Adventure Tours “Renegade,” the participants enjoy the sun, water, food and rum of the Caribbean.

Class T-shirt

Each year a new design is created for the course. Every participant gets one free!
